SickKids > SPECIAL SECTION

A renowned world leader in pediatric health care and research, Toronto's Hospital for Sick Children treats up to 1,000 patients a day from across Canada. Each has a story to tell: some of these tales are heart-wrenching, some uplifting. All are incredible and compelling. The Toronto Star's annual SickKids special section shares these stories, in words and pictures. We'll focus on several young patients and their families, all of whom have shown remarkable strength and courage in the face of overwhelming challenges. We'll also look at the ground-breaking research taking place in the hospital's labs. And our photographers will capture those stories in photos and videos for an online package at thestar.com. Be seen in our SickKids special section April 23.
